Filled with green landscapes, ancient castles, lively culture, and stories whispered by the winds, adventure can be found at every turn. Whether you're a history buff, nature enthusiast, or someone seeking to experience the vibrant Irish pub culture, Ireland has something to offer everyone.

Dublin, the capital, is home to not only a vibrant nightlife, but also such things as the Book of Kells at Dublin Trinity College, the Dublin immigration museum, and the Guinness factory. Cork Ireland, located on the river Lee, is considered the second capital of Ireland. Blarney castle and the famous blarney stone can be found here. If nature is more your style, the natural beauty of the cliffs of Moher are a must see. Towering up to 702 feet over the Atlantic ocean, they are a tourist favorite. The Ring of Kerry, a scenic 111 mile (179km) drive in county Kerry Ireland takes you through small villages, mountain ranges, and sandy beaches.

Castles abound in Ireland. With an estimated 30,000 castle ruins you will be sure to find a few to explore. Kilkenny castle is open year round and offers a remodeled thirteenth century defensive castle. Bunratty castle located in county Claire Ireland is a perfect spot to enjoy a medieval banquet, or book a stay at Dromoland Castle with its luxurious rooms and fascinating history.
